

The Conditions of Booking have been updated for 2014. Please read through them before making your booking. There are no changes to the policy, however some wording has been clarified to be crystal clear as to the intent and application of the policy - mostly around the cancellation policy.

To remove ambiguity, all bookings are considered committed once submitted (regardless of whether the Booking Officer has confirmed the booking or not). This means any subsequent cancellation - by the Member for whatever reason or by the Booking Officer for non-payment - are subject to the cancellation policies. Specifically, this means if you book and don't pay, you are still required to pay the relevant cancellation fee - 20% if more than 14 days out from the booking and 100% if within the 14 days.
